

Road Construction Negligence

Patricia Hodges v. City of Forest Lake, et al

Settlement: $5,850,000.00

Robert J. Dickman represented plaintiffs' survivors in this case, which included a wife and child following a car accident caused by defective roadway in Orange County, California. Plaintiffs were able to prove that defective roadway resulted in a car accident resulting in tragic injuries to their father and husband. This is one of the largest wrongful death settlements in the history of California.
